...and CHOICE in deciding how our team can best assist you in achieving your goals.

- Family-driven: Resources and services are centered around you, your family and your choices.
- Strength-based: Building on what is already working in your life to meet your goals.

Program staff assist with providing resources and services to youth and families who express a need in particular areas of their lives. Some examples include:

- Academic support
- Goal-setting and planning
- Emotional or behavioral counseling
- Job applications
- Afterschool activities
- Vocational training
- Mentorships
- Continuing adult education
- Professional development

HOW DOES IT WORK?

- 1) Youth and/or family express an interest in the program
OR
Family is referred by a school leader.
- 2) Youth/Family meet with the Wraparound team to determine if Wraparound services are an appropriate fit. Referrals can be made for families in search of alternative services.
- 3) Family meets with Wraparound team to determine their strengths, needs and decide team members to include as supports.
- 4) The team creates and implements a plan catered to meet each prioritized need.
- 5) Regular check-ins with the team to review, celebrate progress towards goals and to make any desired changes to the plan.
- 6) Resources and services are adjusted, increased, or decreased depending on the unique needs of each family.
- 7) Family completes the program upon completion of goals or at family discretion.
